

EVOLUTION MARTIAL ARTS

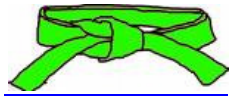

THE REVOLUTION #63 – APRIL 2013

“Back Belt Parents!”

First, who/what are black belt parents? They are the parents who motivate in a positive and gently give an extra push when needed. Almost all students who get their Jr. black belt will have received that from their parents at some point. Many who don't get that, sadly, never reach black belt excellence. Would you let your child quit school? No of course not. Even though they may not realize it now – a good education is important for them. Martial Arts is no different. Focus, discipline, respect, dedication, confidence can be learned, grown and stay with them for life, giving our students an extra advantage – not to mention fitness and self defense. Parents know that kids don't always make the best choices for themselves. Help them with some encouraging words, notice if they got that kick higher, and give them that extra push – it is well worth it in the end.
